REPUBLICAN CONVENTION .- The session of the republican convention which met at 10 o'clock this morning lasted about fifteen minutes. There were but twelve present. No debates were in-dulged in and everything proposed was dulged in and everything proposed was adopted by unanimous votes. The meeting was held in what was formerly the Opera House pool room.

A picture of William Jennings Bryan smiled on the scene and a Confederate battle fig near the door was sawayed by an occasional zepbyr. In the absence of a gavel a ponderous wooden mallet used to open dry goods boxes was laid on the President's table. Procrustes would have consumed some time in accommodating the delegates to the conveniences offered. A number of lnog-legged chairs used by spectators of billiard games sflorded the only seating capacity. No one who occu-pied them had pedal extremities sufficiently long to reach the floor, and they either perched their legs on the rounds or allowed them to hang listlessly in the Resolutions were adopted authorizing delegates to select their own alternates; that they be allowed to adopt the unit rule in voting in the State convention should a majority so dedde; approving of President McKin ley's policy; also Chairman Agnew's "efforts to put the republican party on a war-footing basis, as evidenced by the fact that the approaching State convention would be the first in twelva years," and endorsing Mr. Crupper for bringing a out a state of harmony in the republican ranks in this city. Nothing further appearing the con-vention adjourned sine die.

THE RETREAT for the Catholic clergy of the diocese of Richmond, held at Georgetown College this week, ended Georgetown College this week, ended with a general communion this morning. Yesterday morning a solemn mass of requiem for the repose of the souls of the deceased priests of the diocese was celebrated by Rev. John Doherty, of St. Mary's Church, Norfolk, assisted by Rev. James J. Collins, of Sacred Heart Church, Richmood, as deacon, and Rev. Wm. A. O'Hara, of Star of the Sea Church, Old Point Comfort, as sub-deacon. Rev. Thom s. E. Waters, of the cathedral, acted as E. Waters, of the cathedral, acted as master of ceremonies. The fine music was by a choir of priests of the diocese.

CANDIDATES FOR THE LEGISLATURE. The candidates who have formally announced themselves as in the race for the Legislature are working assiduous ly, interviewing voters "in season, out of season," and since Mr. Frank Hume has stated that he will not be a candi-date for re-slection several other aspi-rants have been looking into the glass and cogitating as to what sort of a figure their personal pulcritude would cut among smooth pated legislators. Some caudidates for the position will bring out old swords, while it is reportscribed them in unconventional language, but to correctness has been ad-

OVERCOME BY HEAT.-Mr. Joseph Price, who conducts a farm near Hayfield, Fairfax county, while wait-ing for a train at the Fayette street depot yesterday evening was overyesterday evening was over-by the heat. > MILITARY EQUIPMENT SOLD .- The trustees of St. John's Academy, which was closed five years ago, have disposed of the military equipment of that school, one of the most complete in the country, to Old Point Comfort College, on Chesapenke bay, between Fortress Monroe and Buckroe Beach, the con-Monroe and Buckroe Beach, the con-alderation being a five years' scholar-ship free of charge for board and tuttion. Joseph M. Monroe, jr., son of Joseph M. Monroe, and grandson of Thomas L. Monroe, the first boy enter-ed after the revival of the achool in 1837, has been appointed the first in-cumbent of the scholarship. Besides his grandfather, his father and his mother's brother, Timothy J. O'Sullivan, were graduates of the academy.

TREASURE FOUND .- Two boxes, containing, it is reported, a large quantity of gold coin, were found in the grocery store of Ballenger Bros., in West End, yesterday morning. The store was be-ing repaired at the time the money was found and the two boxes, one wooden and one pasteboard, dropped from the rafter of the root. Mr. Ballenger ac-knowleges that he found the money, but will not state the amount. The store is wooden, and is an old one. It had been occupied by many people in past years. All sorts of speculation are being made as to who placed the money where found.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.-The recular monthly meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church South was held in the lecture room of that church last night and was quite largely attended. An interesting literary, instrumental, and vocal programme was rendered. Papers on the history of the Methodist Episcopal Church Suth were read by Mesers.

FATALLY BURNED .- A lighted match thrown upon the floor ignited the clothing of Mrs. Robert C. Harris, aged fifty four years in Washington yesterday afternoon, and caused injuries from which she died last night at the Emergency Hospital. The accident took place in the kitchen of her home, 302 Indiana Avenue northwest, about 5 o'clock. Mrs. Harris was a native of this city.
